Thinkers study represents an important and essential element for understanding the history of peoples because of their relationship to various political, economic and social fields, the fact that some of these characters has visions of intellectual and political awareness and dimension "ideologically", which represents some of the times of the Islamic political order form. Historical studies have addressed a number of thinkers who have an important role in the making of events, Mr. Mohammed Hussein Fadlallah and represents one of those who have contributed to some of the political, social and intellectual aspects, both in Lebanon, or on the Arab and Islamic levels, who shot to fame two dramatically as man Tawhid and rapprochement between sects, has this historical Sayed Mohammad Hussein study Fadlallah was being a modern Islamic thinkers, who has been to several campaigns aimed at maiming and challenge the intellectual and doctrinal views, and spread the appeal even in his political positions, for reasons ranging from underdevelopment of civilization, and bigotry , or the fear of the spread of thought jurisprudential enlightened based on community and debt service, hence the choice came to study this character, trying to highlight and reveal many of these personal aspects, whether from birth and the first inception in Najaf, and the subsequent later study in their possession, then his to Lebanon, the birthplace of his ancestors and stability there, the highlights later on the Lebanese arena reference religiously significant this ideological views and doctrinal task of witnessing her near and far, in addition to confirming the necessity of adhering to Islamic values, which is the weapon of deterrence generally all the challenges that threaten the unity of Muslims, as well as the what is known personal Fadlallah's call to unity floor and away from racism and sectarianism, and that was a key motivation for choosing the subject of our study, as well as for his production of intellectual and opinions that have not been studied independent academic in the field of history, as well as the legacy of generations of great scientific wealth represented in different and various religious and doctrinal, historical, philosophical, poetic and social fields.