Praise be to God, who is righteous by his grace, and peace and blessings on Muhammad and his family. There is no doubt that the text is not the preserve of the author alone; texts on the era of ignorance of the texts that remain fertile entice readers are chunky creative energies. And Osar Aljafee one poem called narrators cabin or the one, and traced the ancient sources and found that they grouped of poetry, some of which - it seems to me - they were poems or pieces, but the narrators and writers was their care poem famous, and it’s story theme was Alosar young when his father was killed and his people accepted blood money and intensified what promises did not satisfy their work was flustered busy revenge throughout his life. Reader cabin Alosar lives with his diary to realize revenge.