

Summary

The religious sources are full of texts of peremptory origin and the clear indication of the proof of a kind of life and perception of man after his departure from the world in another world called the world of asceticism, as evidenced by other texts on the color of the existential integration of man in that world, and despite the interest of many investigators the question of the world of Isthmus But we did not find them interested in the issue of existential integration of man in the Isthmus explicitly, and the article present in your hands is interested in the statement and analysis of this issue in the light of the Quran and Sunnah, because the revelation is the only tool knowledge of this algae issues beyond the realm of mental and sensory perception.
