

Summary

Praise be to Allah who created man, and made him the best types of creation in the universes, and prayers and peace be upon our Prophet Muhammad (Peace Be Upon Him and His Family) who gave the mosques of the word, and resurrected to beautify the virtues of ethics and divinity.

After the research discusses the groups of Damascus society in the fifth and sixth centuries AH, as the city of Damascus, the rule of governance, Guy, the Levant and the axis of trade exchanges and therefore we find in the city communities and not a single community each of its customs and traditions, and all of this we tried to find categories of this community, National or religious, the research was based on other research on a variety of sources and references, the information of which has not been provided